RULES OF THE TOURNAMENT

Approx. over drinks--man, woman, boy or girl may enter this contest.

The final competitors will be the 40 most skilled players--10 from each course.

There is your low score. Play as often as you care to. It is your low score that counts.

The playing of eighteen holes will be accepted as one game.

Each contestant must be paired with one or more players when competing in this contest.

As many as like can play at a time.

You may play mornings, afternoons or evenings, for which the regular charge for each game played will be made.

All you have to do to enter this big prize contest is go to any one of the courses listed on this page, ask for a contestant's score card, which will be given you by the management. Be sure that you keep all accounts correct of each game played, sign your name and address on your card each time, and turn it in to the management, who will place card in a sealed box.

These cards will be provided by the management of each course and standings will be published by The Times-Union weekly.

The 10 competitors with the lowest aggregate scores on each course will participate in an elimination contest held on an Albany course and will be given a five day notice of the time and place to compete for the awards.

These elimination contests will be played in the presence of two competent, professional judges who will sign your score card with you.

50 cents will be made for any game in the finals. The contestants will be the guests of the manager of the course.

Any contestant in the finals who fails to play his or her game at the time and place stated in their notice will automatically be eliminated.

Local course rules will govern all play.

A complete list of the awards is printed on this page. Read them carefully.

Any other information regarding this contest will gladly be given you by the management of any of the Tom Thumb golf courses listed on this page.
